

Medical therapy, radiofrequency ablation or cryoballoon ablation as first-line treatment for paroxysmal atrial fibrillation: interpreting efficacy through restricted mean survival time and network meta-analysis

Cite as: Messori A, Bartoli L, Ferracane E, Trippoli S, Messori A. Medical therapy, radiofrequency ablation or cryoballoon ablation as first-line treatment for paroxysmal atrial fibrillation: interpreting efficacy through restricted mean survival time and network meta-analysis. Reviews in Cardiovascular Medicine 2021

Supplementary material

Literature search, identification of included studies, and data extraction.

Figure S1. Prisma Flow Diagram referring to the Pubmed research carried out on February 10, 2021 of the secondary literature on cryoablation and second line radiofrequency ablation.

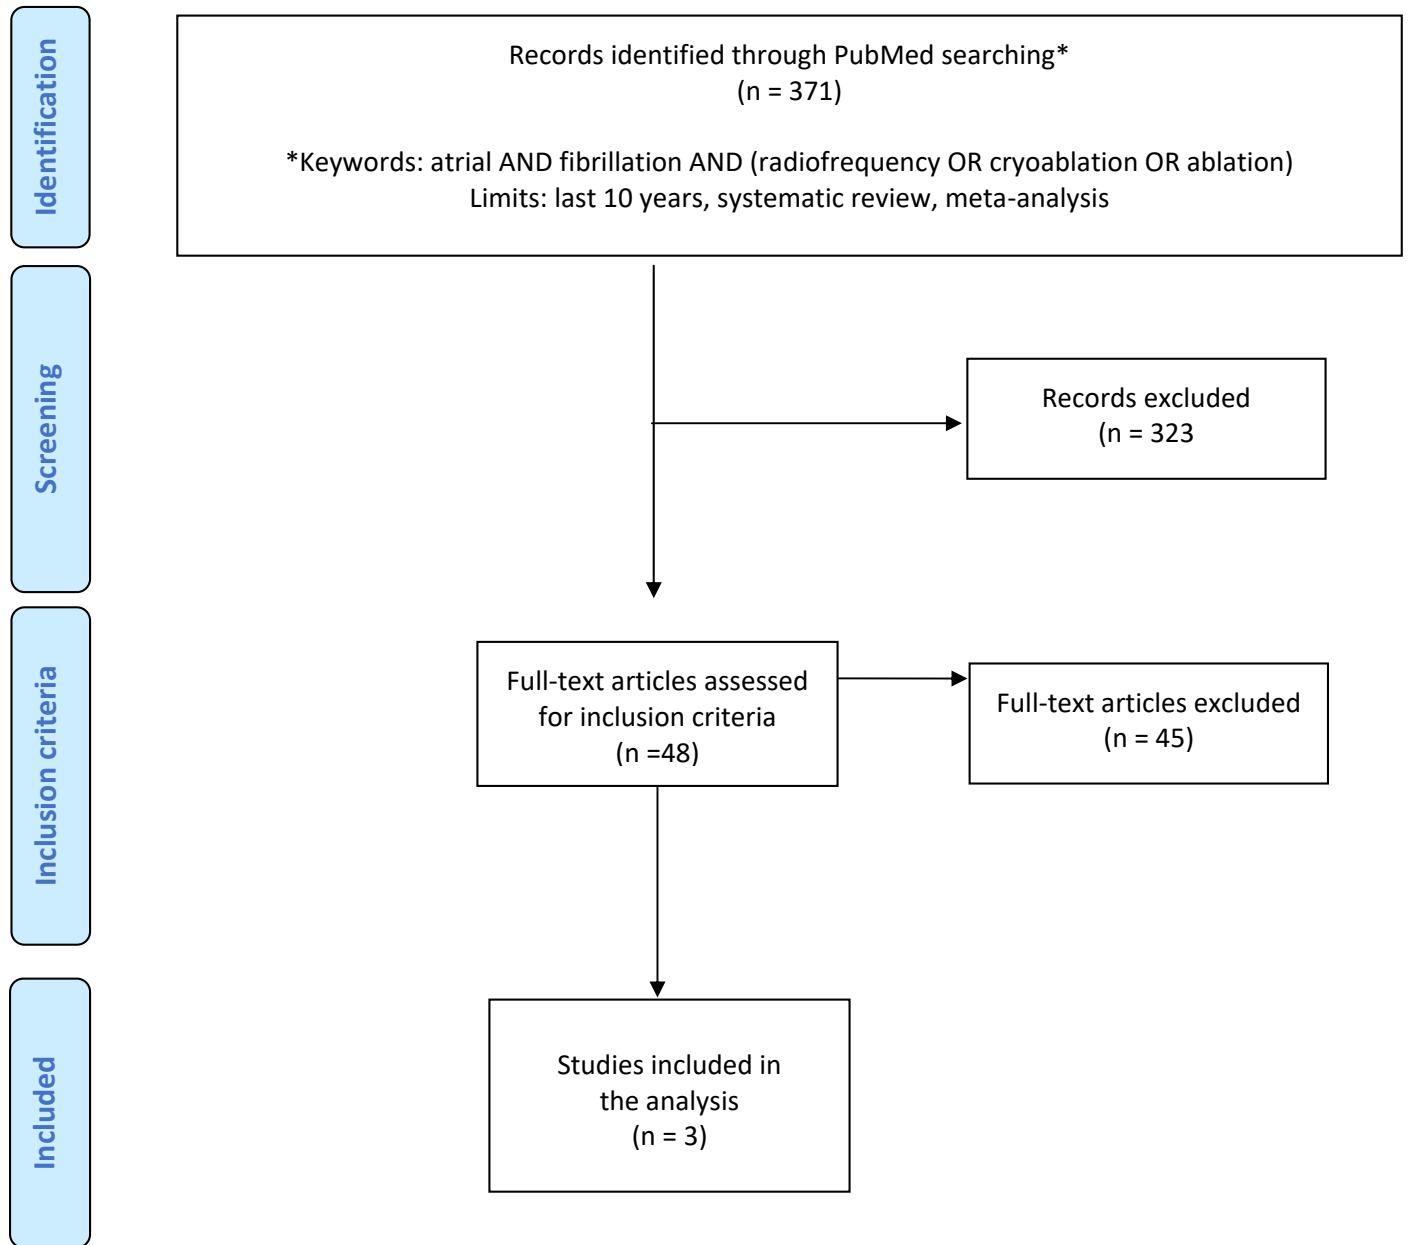

Figure S2. Prisma Flow Diagram referring to the Pubmed research carried out on February 10, 2021 of the primary literature on cryoablation and second line radiofrequency ablation.

